Helene Syre, Student/ Graphic designer

Hello!

I'm a passionate and detail-oriented graphic designer and front-end development student with a strong interest in creating user-focused solutions.

I'm comfortable working with Figma and Adobe Creative Suite and have practical experience implementing designs using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. My work spans both design and development, allowing me to take ideas from early concepts through to finished, functional solutions.

This portfolio showcases projects I've completed during my studies at Noroff. I see a significant progression in my development as a frontend developer, and I'm excited to continue building on that growth. I'm looking for opportunities where I can apply my skills in both visual communication and development.

Thank you for taking the time to review my portfolio.

Kind regards,

Helene Syre
